

Operation HYDRANT is the national policing response to the oversight and co-ordination of all child abuse investigations concerning persons of public prominence, or those offences which took place in the past or in institutional settings. Operation HYDRANT is overseen by the National Policing Lead for Child Protection and Abuse Investigations.

If Mr Affleck has not already reported this abuse to the police I would strongly encourage him to do so, in order that it can be investigated and those responsible brought to justice. As this abuse occurred in the past he can report it by calling the police non-emergency number 101.

I see that Mr Affleck has concerns regarding an out of court payment received by Royal Borough of Windsor and Maidenhead Council (RBWMC) to cover up the alleged abuse at Green Field House. As you will understand, government ministers and Home Office officials have no jurisdiction to intervene in individual cases so I am unable to comment on this matter.

However, should Mr Affleck wish to make a complaint to RBWMC, he should write a full account of his complaint and submit directly via online complaints form. The weblink for this form can be found at: <https://forms.rbwm.gov.uk/popup.aspx/RenderForm/?F.Name=complaints>

If Mr Affleck is dissatisfied with RBWMC's response, he may wish to approach any of the following:

- A local councillor can give advice, provide additional information or to handle the complaint on Mr Affleck's behalf. Details of local councillors can be found on RBWMC's website (<http://www3.rbwm.gov.uk/>) or by calling Democratic Services on 01628 796319.
- The leader of the council can assist if Mr Affleck is unhappy with the way his complaint has been handled or its outcome. Full details can be found on the RBWMC website <http://www3.rbwm.gov.uk/> or by calling the Leaders Office on 01628 796322 or by emailing cllr.burbage@rbwm.gov.uk
